District Level Oratory competition

Goal –

The institution is fully committed to inbuilt and nurture the potential of students. Throughout each academic year, the institution conducts several activities which provide huge scope to develop different abilities and efficiencies students possess in themselves. Oratory competition is among all such activities which helps them stand firmly and express their thoughts publicly. The sole aim of the contest was to enhance oratory skills, body language as well as to make students future spokespersons.

The Context

In general, students prefer to be backbenchers and indulge in inferiority complex in themselves. Though students show performance in written examination or competition, it is the need of hour to inculcate oratory skills among them. Even though many students have some inborn qualities like public speaking, anchoring, singing, etc. They were afraid of exposing themselves openly. After proper guidelines, they preferred to participate. After the institution made them aware of certain social issues which disturb social structure, they showed interest to present such challenging issues like gender equality, changing seasons and rural life, natural calamities, corruption, crimes, etc.

The Practice

The institution organised district level oratory competition through Students Welfare Department of Savitribai Phule Pune University on 23 Feb 2016. Beforehand the institution sent invitation letters and made phone calls to neighbouring colleges.

The programme was initiated early in the morning with registration and breakfast. It was inaugurated by the chief guest Prof.Dr.Gangurde A. D. from New Arts, Commerce and Science College Shevgaon. Prof.Gangurde praised the programme and inspired testers to speak boldly. Prof.Rajendra Marathe spoke on the art of oratory. Principal of the college wished well to participants and cleared the motive of the contest.

Seventeen contesters participated in competition, some of them from neighbouring colleges. Contesters tackled issues like Make in India: Directions and Problems, Gender equality, Public Shrines and Changing Seasons and Rural life. Almost at 3 o'clock, prizes were announced. Ganesh Bhangude from Dadapatil Rajale College won the first prize and Kiran Tahakik and Shital Dhage won second and third prizes.

Evidence of Success:

The oratory competition proved to be successful and effective one. Many students showed readiness to take part in such activities. The contest enhanced confidence in students paved the way to expose potential. All contesters performed well and satisfied audience by way of different oratory skills and gestures. Even the examiners Prof. Rajmohamad Shaikh, Prof. Rajendra Marathe and Prof. Sunil Adhav found in difficulties for electing winners of the competition. The competition resulted to be pioneer for future public speakers.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required

A basic problem which the college faced is to prepare students for this activity. Earlier it was difficult to convince them. Even students from other colleges felt uneasy for the contest. However, the institution made available certain reference material to tackle and rethink different social issues. Lack of awareness hurdled many students from participating in the contest. On the day of the contest, the institution provided breakfast and lunch to participants and audience as well.

BLOOD DONATION AND HEMOGLOBIN CHECK UP CAMP

GOAL:

In order to inculcate the significance of blood donation among students and youths, the college organised blood donation and haemoglobin check-up camp on the occasion of the 37th death anniversary of Com. Abasaheb kakade, the founder of Navmaharashrta Shikshan Mandal Shevgaon. The aim of the programme was to commemorate the generosity, social work and significant contribution of Abasaheb in education for the depressed strata of society. The programme also sought to imbibe the virtue of donating blood and awareness of the necessity of sufficient haemoglobin in human body.

The Context:

Late Abasaheb Kakade Arts College celebrates birth and death anniversaries of several leaders who shaped the Indian society through National Service Scheme. The blood donation and haemoglobin check-up camp was also organised to preserve and continue the asset of social work done by Abasaheb as well as to convince students the significance of their blood for others. Through N.S.S and S.W.O many activities are carried out in every academic year .However, organising blood donation camp and haemoglobin check-up was a sing of following footprints of the uphill task done by Abasaheb. Because it was Abasaheb's dream to establish a college for facility of higher education for girls.

The Practice

On 8th October 2015, with the joint courtesy of the college and the Jankalyan Blood bank, Ahmednagar, a blood donation camp was organised. The programme was initiated by the principal of the college .He emphasised on the background of the college .Through the speech he mentioned the successful progress of the college and finally suggested students to donate blood for the welfare of society. Later, Dr. Vilas Madikar guided students for the essence of blood donation. He further explained that blood cannot be produced except human body and one can donate blood four times a year from his 18 years to 65 years. After donation, new cells get created in body .Madikar mentioned that the donor is the soul of the blood bank. He further referred the undoubting task of Com. Abasaheb Kakade for the backward section of society. In the camp 45 students donated blood along with some staff members and 200 students (boys & girls) checked haemoglobin. The college provided breakfast to all donors. The blood bank also promised for instant blood provision on emergency situation.

Evidence of Success

Organising blood donation camp in the college was a sing for the commemoration of the memories of Abasaheb Kakade. Students realised the efforts he took to uplift the predicament of rural people. They also learnt the essence and necessity of donating blood. Most of the students became ready for participating further in such activities. Due to haemoglobin check-up, especially girls understood health condition and need for regular diet. Awareness among students was profound donation of blood as it is the need of the hour.

Problems Encountered and Resources Generated

Most of the students were earlier unaware of Abasaheb's social work and necessity of blood. Negligence towards one's health made them clumsy for involving in the programme. However, after proper counselling and suggestions they seemed enthusiastic for the camp. The team of the blood bank brought apparatus, medicines, certificates and fast foods for donors. The college provided two, three classrooms for settling instruments and for the sitting arrangement of students.
